

"FOR 25 YEARS, FLIGHTSAFETY HAS BEEN HERE FOR CESSNA, OUR CUSTOMERS AND OUR PARTNERS."

JIM MORGAN
VICE PRESIDENT OF SERVICE FACILITIES
CESSNA, WICHITA, KANSAS

In 1974, Jim joined Cessna as the Manager of the Wichita Citation Service Center. In the 26 years that have passed, Jim has taken numerous FlightSafety courses himself, logged more than 6,000 flight hours, and become a licensed A&P technician.

Jim Morgan says training is an investment and that's why his company places its trust in FlightSafety.

"Well-trained technicians address technical issues faster, which means more up time for the airplane."

FlightSafety is the exclusive provider of initial flight training for Citation customers. So, when you buy a new Cessna Citation, training for the pilot, co-pilot and two maintenance technicians is included in the price.

In fact, Citation technicians at Cessna's 26 independent service centers around the world come to Wichita, Kansas to attend the FlightSafety Maintenance Training Program.

What's good for the customer is also best for Cessna, so all Cessna technicians in each service facility attend the program.

"We choose FlightSafety because FlightSafety has earned our confidence, and our customers'. The best solution for Cessna—and our customers and partners—is FlightSafety."

That's the way it's been for 25 years and counting.
